And a hundred yeares in Catho best pleasure, and after that, a hundred more; to which being spent add a thousand, and to that ten thousand more; the last shall as surely end as the first are ended, and all shall be swallowed with eternitie.

James Godder.

vexation and Anguish accompanie Riches and Honour:
 The Pomp of the World and the favour of the People are but Smoake, suddenly vanishing: which if they commonly please, commonly bring Repentance and for a moment of Joy, they bring an Age of Sorrow.

Incomparable Excellencies are produced by Industry;
No Starke in the Sphaere of Wisdom out shines it:
By that men become famous, and raise permanent Monuments, remaining to their immortall Renowne.

By frequent Exercise men learn, and know -
How through all this vuzling Labur, in this to goe:

James Hedder

It is a most noble, and commendable Designe of Children, ascending of meane Parents, by their Industrie, to become the Denies of Wealth, and excelling parts, which renders them equall in opinion of the Student to those of honourable Descent.

Who would not carry on such a brave Designe
 In the Circle of the eternally to shine?

DAVID HOPKINS

 Hippomanes ceased to runne when hee had gotten the Scale. Hercules to laboure when hee had obtained the Victorie. Mercury to pipe when hee had cast Argus into a Slumber. Every Action hath its end.

Doe not alwaies stand upon the nice Pontilices and points of State, and Place, but remit and submit, as Occasions require and vary, those that doe not observe this, are a little too strait laced.

Conceit to learn till thou cease to live;
Think that day lost when thou dost no letter,
But still give something that new grace may give;
And render thee more Learned, Wise, & Better.

John Milton

Time, Patience, and Industrie

are the three great Masters of the World. They bring a man to the end of his desires whereas an imprudent and turbulent mixture oftentimes turned him out of the way to his proposed End.

Oh, could transeer's pale Silver & Silver rays
Out-shine the Diamond, and faint Luna's blaze.
But when we view this curious Art compare,
Nothing is found so rich, nothing so rare.
